Three Great Countries
By Kate Finkbeiner

North America is a continent. It is made up of three main countries: Canada, the United States of America, and Mexico and the three large islands in North America.

Canada doesn't have that many other North American countries. Over 10 million people live here. Canada is made up of many provinces. A province is like a state. Most Canadians speak English. Many Canadians in the province of Quebec also speak French.

The United States of America, or the U.S., is the third largest country with the largest population. More than 300 million people live in the United States. The U.S. is made up of 50 states. Most Americans speak English. Many Americans speak Spanish, too.

Mexico is the country south of the U.S. About 120 million people live here. Mexico is made up of 32 states and cities. The country speaks Spanish with the United States, Belize, and Guatemala. Most Mexicans speak Spanish. Some Mexicans speak other languages. There are the languages of the first people to live in North America. There are many North American. To the north is the Arctic Ocean. To the east is the Atlantic Ocean, and to the west is the Pacific Ocean.

Instructions:

1. Color Canada pink.
2. Color the USA green.
3. Color Mexico red.
4. Color Greenland brown.
5. Color the rest of North America orange.
6. On the compass rose, label the arrow pointing up N (for north), label the arrow pointing down S (for south), label the arrow pointing right E (for east), and label the arrow pointing left W (for west).
